

INGALL'S STATUE WAS PRESENTED

Senator Daniel Delivers Address in Senate Expressing Admiration for Kansas Man.

34 STATES REPRESENTED

Opposition to Bust of Robert E. Lee Seems to Have Died Natural Death.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 21.—The statue of John J. Ingalls, which has been in Statuary Hall for several months, was formally received by the Senate to-day as representative of the State of Kansas in that galaxy of American great men. The principal address was made by Mr. Long, of Kansas. Among the other speakers were Messrs. Cockrell, Gorman and Daniel. Speaking of Mr. Ingalls's strong personality, Senator Daniel admitted that many of his remarks had been offensive to him, but said "I was so far gone in admiration for the man."
The exercises in the House were participated in by many members, who spoke feelingly of the late Kansas senator. Among the speakers were Gibson (Tennessee) and Wiley (Alabama).

Opposition Dies Out.
Frequent inquiries are made as to when the statue of George Washington and Robert E. Lee, which are being made for the State of Virginia, will be placed in Statuary Hall, will be set up. It is presumed they will be here in a year or so. While there is great and general interest manifested in the proposition to place a statue of General Lee in the Capitol, it is a notable fact that not one word of opposition has been heard lately, and a prominent member of Congress told me recently he did not believe one would be heard when the statue arrives or is presented.

Although the Federal law authorizes each State of the Union to place statues of two of its most famous sons in the hall of the old House of Representatives, commonly called Statuary Hall, only thirty-four of the States have done so. Virginia is one of the few of the original thirteen States that are not represented. The States are represented as follows: Connecticut, Roger Sherman and Jonathan Trumbull, both of whom served in early Congresses.

Illinois—General James Shields, whom Stonewall Jackson defeated so badly in the Valley of Virginia, and who was killed in the battle of Gettysburg; Indiana, only thirty-four of the States have done so. Virginia is one of the few of the original thirteen States that are not represented. The States are represented as follows: Connecticut, Roger Sherman and Jonathan Trumbull, both of whom served in early Congresses.

Indiana—Oliver P. Morton, Governor and senator.
Kansas—John J. Ingalls, senator.
Massachusetts—John Winthrop and Samuel Adams, statesmen and patriots.
Maryland—John Hanson, a private citizen, and Charles Carroll, senator.
Maine—William King, senator.
Missouri—Thomas H. Benton and Francis Pickens, senators.
Michigan—Lewis Cass, senator.
New Jersey—General Phil. Kearney and Commodore Richard Stockton.
New York—George Clinton and R. D. Livingston.
Ohio—James A. Garfield, senator and President, and William Allen, senator.
Pennsylvania—Robert Fulton and Peter Muhlenberg, the one the inventor of the steamboat and the other Revolutionary patriot.
Rhode Island—Roger Williams, called the apostle of liberty of conscience in the new world, and Daniel Green, Revolutionary patriot.
Texas—Sam Houston, of Virginia, Governor of Texas and senator; Stephen Austin, of Virginia, one of the founders of the Texas republic.
Vermont—Ethan Allen, Revolutionary hero and J. Collamer, statesman.

No Representative.

Virginia has no representative in the hall, although the Houdon statue of Washington, in the Capitol in Richmond, stands in the hall. It is a cheap plaster of Paris cast.

Wisconsin is represented by Pere Marquette, the Jesuit priest who discovered the lead mines in the State. The statue of Wisconsin was formed. The statue is probably the most artistic in the hall, and represents the subject in his priestly robes. There was a strong protest from Protestants against allowing the statue to be received, but as there had been no protest when the statue of Roger Williams was set up, Congress could hardly yield to the protests in the case of Pere Marquette.

The following States are without representation in the hall, not including Virginia, though the statue of Washington was not sent by the State:

Alabama, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Washington, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, Wyoming, North Carolina, South Carolina, North Dakota, South Dakota, Tennessee and Utah.

Nominations Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The Senate to-day, in executive session, confirmed the following nominations:
Postmaster: Ernest Caldwell, Collector of Internal Revenue from the Fifth District of Tennessee.
Postmasters: Florence Chase, C. Peck, Brooksville; Peter P. Cobb, Port Pierce.
Tennessee-Joe, H. Hall, Winchester.
Thomas H. Jones, of Alabama, assistant surgeon in the navy.

Made the Wrong Reference.

In presenting the amended petition in the case of J. Samuel McCue vs. the Commonwealth a few days ago, Messrs. John L. Lee and J. S. Coleman, counsel for the petitioner, used this language:

"There is an instance on record in which a judgment not rendered by a human tribunal against an individual, but by the Almighty against a whole people—was reversed upon reargument." (See Exodus xxxiv. 1-14.)

The Scripture reference should have been Exodus xxxii, instead of xxxiv, the error having occurred in the petition itself.

SWAYNE CASE MAY BLOCK RATE BILL

Railroad Senators Invite This Opportunity to Stave Off Present Agitation.

HEPBURN BILL OFFERED

Gives Commission Power to Fix Rates, Subject to Right of Appeal to Commerce Court.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 21.—It develops that there is no small probability that the Swayne case will be taken up by the Senate at this session. The reason for it is peculiar. The railroad senators are ready to do anything to stave off the present agitation concerning rebates and regulation of rates, the message and attitude of the President to the contrary notwithstanding. To use a term of Speaker Cannon, the Swayne case may be employed as a "buffer," the idea being that its consideration by the Senate would occupy so much time that there would be none left except for the handling of necessary appropriation bills.

A number of senators to-day expressed doubt as to whether there was any chance for the Hephburn bill to be considered by the Senate or passed at this session. The seven managers for the House to present the Swayne impeachment articles to the Senate are to meet on Monday and discuss their plan of action.

Members of the House generally believe the seven managers constitute a strong team, and the Democrats are particularly well pleased that the minority is represented by Clayton, DeArmond and Smith, of Kentucky.

The Hephburn Bill.

Representative Hephburn to-day introduced his bill amending the Interstate Commerce act, which has been under consideration some time, and which has been submitted to the President and Attorney General and other members of the administration.

Upon complaint the Interstate Commerce Commission shall declare and order what shall be a just and reasonable rate, which order shall take effect in sixty days, the court having an appeal to a court of commerce to have the order of the commission reviewed. Pending the review the court may suspend the order, requiring a bond from the carrier for the payment of all damages incurred by shipper.

The commission is also authorized to fix a joint rate in case two or more carriers fail to agree, orders affecting these rates being subject to review by the court of commerce.

The President is authorized to appoint an assistant Attorney-General for the enforcement of the act.

The Interstate Commerce Commission is authorized during a judicial review of its order to modify or suspend the order under review. Carriers refusing to obey an order of the commission are subject to a penalty of $5,000 a day.

An appeal from the Court of Commerce can only be taken to the Supreme Court of the United States.

New Commission.

The present Interstate Commerce Commission is abolished and a new commission created, composed of seven commissioners at $7,000 a year. The terms of the commissioners shall be ten years.

A Court of Commerce, composed of five circuit judges of the United States, is created, which shall hold four regular sessions each year in Washington. The court shall have exclusive jurisdiction over cases brought by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The chief justice of the Supreme Court of the United States is authorized to designate on the first of each year five circuit judges, who shall constitute the Court of Commerce. The President is authorized to appoint an additional circuit judge for each of the judicial districts of the United States, who are authorized to perform the duties of the judges of the Circuit Court.

The bill consists of twenty-one sections, much attention being given to the details and methods of procedure under which the commission and the Court of Commerce shall proceed.

Agricultural Bill.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The House Committee on Agriculture to-day practically completed work on the agricultural appropriation bill and expects to report it Monday. The bill carries an emergency appropriation for the eradication of the boll weevil of $100,000.

INDIAN BILL IS PASSED BY HOUSE

Texas Member Objected That $100,000 of Trust Funds Had Been Paid Catholic Church.

SWAYNE IMPEACHMENT CASE

Cannon Appoints Seven Managers to Conduct Proceedings Before Senate.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 21.—The House to-day passed the Indian appropriation bill. Speaker Cannon announced his appointment of the seven managers for the House to present to the Senate the Swayne impeachment case, as follows:
Representatives Palmer (Pennsylvania), Powers (Massachusetts), Olmsted (Pennsylvania), Perkins (New York), Clayton (Alabama), DeArmond (Missouri), and Smith (Kentucky). The first four managers are Republicans, the remainder Democrats. All but Olmsted and Perkins are members of the Judiciary Committee. A resolution was agreed to directing the clerk of the House to present to the Senate the articles of impeachment.

The Indian appropriation bill was amended only in minor details, $50,000 being added for Indian schools. With the statement that over $100,000 of the trust funds of the Indians had been paid out to the Catholic Church during the past year for the maintenance of mission schools, Mr. Stephens (Texas) ordered that the bill be amended by providing that no such funds shall be used for such purpose in the future. A point of order was made and sustained against the amendment.

The Senate.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 21.—Just before adjournment to-day the Senate received from the House a notification through its clerk that that body had named managers to conduct the impeachment proceedings against Hon. Charles Swayne, United States district judge for the Northern District of Florida.

On motion of Mr. Platt (Connecticut), an order was agreed to directing that the House be notified that the Senate was ready to receive the House managers. Mr. Teller gave notice that when the impeachment proceedings were once begun, he would insist upon the continued consideration of that matter, and would resist any effort to displace it with the Statehood bill.

The fortification bill was read, and, pending the consideration of an amendment to strike out the provision for insular fortifications the Senate adjourned.

NO REASON FOR IT.

When Richmond Citizens Show the Way.

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an itching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the dangers of diabetes or any kidney ills when relief is so near at hand and the most positive proof given that they can be cured. Read what a Richmond citizen says:

J. D. Slubb, moulder, of 41 Thirtieth Street, says: "For the last twenty years I have suffered almost constantly with a dull aching pain across the small of my back and through the region of the kidneys. At times it was so severe that I could hardly get around to attend to my work. At night I did not rest well and in the morning would be tired and lame. If I stopped twinges caught me, and I felt miserable all the time. I took remedy after remedy, wore plasters and rubbed my back, but with no permanent relief. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box at Owens and Minor Drug Company's store. Their good effect was soon evident. The one box did me more good than all the other remedies put together, and I am only too pleased to recommend them in return for the good that they have done me."

BRYAN IN CONFAB WITH PRESIDENT

Calls at White House and Receives Warm Welcome From Mr. Roosevelt.

DISCUSS RATE REGULATION

Nebraska Will Try to Have Democrats Hold Caucus on Proposition.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 21.—President Roosevelt was standing in the reception room at the executive offices at the White House this morning talking to Senator Cullom, who was one of many men of distinction in the room, and bowing to acquaintances whom he recognized, entered the room. The President's eyes were not turned towards the door, and he did not see the Nebraska. But Mr. Roosevelt does not seem very well when talking, and in a moment he recognized Mr. Bryan among his callers.
"Excuse me, Senator," said the President to Senator Cullom, and he hastened over to where Mr. Bryan was standing. "I am delighted to see you," exclaimed the President, with outstretched hand.

"I hope you are well, Mr. President," replied Mr. Bryan, as the two shook hands.

Mr. Roosevelt did not at once release Mr. Bryan's hand, but drew him towards the door of the Chamber room at the White House, and they went to the room. The two distinguished Americans spent twelve minutes together.

"It would not take more than one sentence to explain my call upon the President," said Mr. Bryan, when he came into the outer room. "I believe that when the President enters on a course which is approved by an individual or by a party, he should receive the moral support and the encouragement of that individual or party."
Later Mr. Bryan, who had discussed the course of the President with regard to the proposed regulation of railway rates by the government, and had also talked of revision of the tariff.

A resolution was agreed to directing the clerk of the House to present to the Senate the articles of impeachment.

The Indian appropriation bill was amended only in minor details, $50,000 being added for Indian schools. With the statement that over $100,000 of the trust funds of the Indians had been paid out to the Catholic Church during the past year for the maintenance of mission schools, Mr. Stephens (Texas) ordered that the bill be amended by providing that no such funds shall be used for such purpose in the future. ### COAST LINE CHANGES.

Division Superintendent's Resignation Make Shifting of Offices.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WILMINGTON, N. C., Jan. 21.—It is unofficially, though reliably reported here that Mr. W. J. Haylow, superintendent of transportation of the first division of the Atlantic Coast Line, will resign his position there. Mr. Haylow has been in the position for several years, and is well known to the public as a successful business man.

The appointment of Mr. Joe T. King, freight agent of the Atlantic Coast Line, in Wilmington, as an accountant of the system to succeed Mr. Haylow, is practically decided. In this connection, it is stated that Mr. B. J. Jacobs, freight agent at Charleston, who has been in the position for several years, is expected to be succeeded by Mr. Jacobs. No official order has been issued to that effect, but it is believed that the change will be made.

COTTON CONVENTION.

Planters, Bankers, Merchants and Others to Confer.

(By Associated Press.)
NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 21.—In a telegram received here to-day, President Harrison of the Southern Cotton Growers' Protective Association, sets at rest all doubt as to the character of proceedings of the Interstate Cotton Convention, which will meet here Tuesday and Wednesday. The convention is not a bankers' convention, as has been reported, but a meeting of planters, bankers, merchants and others interested in the cotton industry.

The New Orleans Progressive Union has made elaborate preparations to entertain the visiting delegates, who are expected to number two thousand or more. The first important committee meeting will be held here to-day, and the convention will be held in the South in holding the remainder of this season's crop.

NO CONSOLIDATION.

General Manager of the Coast Line Denies Flying Rumors.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WILMINGTON, N. C., Jan. 21.—In an interview with your correspondent to-day General Manager John R. Kenly, of the Atlantic Coast Line, said there was no foundation for the rumor that plans are making for the consolidation of the general office forces of the Atlantic Coast Line and the Louisville and Nashville, as far as his knowledge goes and there is nothing at this time to indicate that such a step will be taken at any time in the future. The rumor is a baseless one, and the Coast Line is going to erect additional office buildings in Wilmington or anywhere else, as the accommodations here are quite adequate to answer the demands of the system.

DIED AT SAME HOUR AT WHICH SHE MARRIED

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WILMINGTON, N. C., Jan. 21.—Sitting at her home at Hayfield, the county, last night, Mrs. Margaret Richards was attacked with heart disease while talking to her family and fell over dead. She had been celebrating the sixty-third anniversary of her marriage and died exactly at the same hour at which she was married over sixty years ago to her late husband, Henry T. Richards. She was confined in St. Luke's Hospital, and married by Rev. Dr. Lewis Richberger. Mrs. Richards was a Miss Rosenberger, eighty-four years old and leaves two sons—Rev. J. W. Richards, of the Gettysburg (Pa.) Seminary; Rev. Asa Richards, of Lovettsville, Va.; two daughters—Mrs. Anne B. Larrick, of Webster county, Neb., and Mrs. A. Williams, of Frederick county, Md.

NEWS GATHERED FROM SOUTHSIDE

Dr. Callahan Appeals From Fine in Mayor's Court.

MEMORIAL TO DR. MATHEWS

Negro Steals a Ham, But Is Caught—Services in Churches.

(Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch.)
No. 1112 Hull Street.
Mayor Maurice yesterday fined Dr. P. W. Callahan $40 for practicing his profession without a license from the State Board of Dental Examiners. An appeal was taken and the case went on to the Corporation Court.

In explaining the position of the State Board in the matter, Dr. Hugh W. Campbell makes the appended statement:

"Dr. P. W. Callahan applied to the president of the Virginia Board of Dental Examiners in 1903 for a permit to practice dentistry in the State of Virginia until the regular examination on the second Tuesday in June, 1904. The permit was granted by the president of the Board, and he was examined by one member of the Board, as required by law and granted the right to practice until he should be examined at the regular session and receive at least four affirmative votes. At the regular June meeting of the Examiners he failed to make the required average and was rejected by the Board."

"He continued to practice although he was repeatedly warned by the president of the Board both in person and by letter."

"The Board of Examiners are required by law to issue temporary certificates for the convenience of those who come into the State in the interim of the Board meetings, in order to allow them an opportunity to practice until the regular meeting of the Board. Further than this, and without being required by law, applicants are allowed to appear before the Board at the meeting of the State Dental Association, held subsequently to that of the Board of Examiners. The temporary certificates issued to all persons have been required to be handed to the secretary of the Board of Examiners on the first day of the annual examination, and in no case has the Board been called upon to prosecute any one for using these certificates in violation of the law. The Board is authorized, under the law regulating the practice of dentistry, like the law regulating the practice of medicine and pharmacy, is a part of the public health laws of Virginia."

Other Facts Set Forth.

"The Examiners are appointed by the Governor and they examine and register all applicants for license in the State of Virginia who pass a reasonable examination."

"Any adult, a citizen of the United States, has the right to apply and take the State examination. A diploma from any school or college does not entitle a person to practice in this State. This feature of the law puts all graduates on equal footing, and avoids discrimination in favor of any school or college. In this particular the dental statute is in accord with the law regulating the practice of medicine and law in Virginia. The Board is for the protection of the public against incompetent persons and for the elevation of the standard of dentistry. When in regular session it is a practical guarantee that the holder of such certificate is qualified to practice."

"The Virginia Board is recognized as the third Board in the United States as to efficiency and care in its examination."
